

SciENcv (Science Experts Network Curriculum Vitae)

SciENcv is an application developed by NCBI (National Center for Biotechnology Information) to help researchers create and maintain biographical sketches as required for grant applications and annual reports. NIH, NSF and other federal agencies are adopting it as a tool to assist researchers in preparing biographical sketches and other proposal and reporting materials in agency-approved formats.

5. You will be given the option to create a My NCBI account or link to an existing My NCBI account:
 - If you do not already have a NCBI account, select Create a new NCBI account and click Continue.
 - If you have a NCBI account, select Link to an existing NCBI account and click the Continue button.
6. You will be redirected to the My NCBI home page where you can access and manage tools within the NCBI interface and begin to create documents; Select your login in the upper right corner, select Dashboard

The screenshot shows the My NCBI interface. At the top, the NIH National Library of Medicine logo is visible. The user is logged in as j.cyr@northeastern.edu. A dropdown menu for the account is open, showing options: Dashboard (highlighted with a red box), Publications, Account settings, and Log out. Below the account menu, there is a section for profile information with a message: "User profile has not yet been set up. Click edit to set up your profile information." and an edit button. A section for "SciENcv documents" shows "You have not created any CV yet." and a "Create New Document" button. The main dashboard area is titled "My NCBI" and contains several panels: "Search NCBI databases" (with a search box and button), "Saved Searches" (with a message and link), "Collections" (with a table showing no collections), "Filters" (with a message and link), "My Bibliography" (with a message and link), "Recent Activity" (with a message and link), and "SciENcv" (with a link to create a new CV). A red circle highlights the "SciENcv" panel, and a red speech bubble points to it with the text "Reorder the sections by selecting and moving".
